COMPILED BY M. L. FERGUSON, CHIEF STATISTICS OFFICER, DARWIN

COMMONWEALTH BUREAU OF CENSUS AND STATISTICS

CANBERRA AUSTRALIA

PREFACE

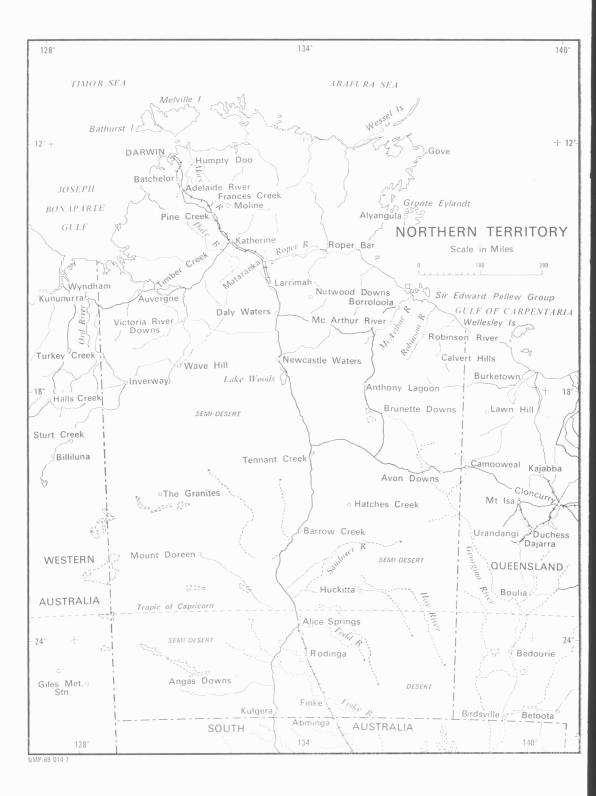

This issue of the Northern Territory Statistical Summary is the twelfth of the series introduced by this Bureau in 1960.

In general it follows the lines of the previous issues. The contents of the previous issue have been advanced wherever possible, and tables have been included showing selected characteristics of the Aboriginal population as determined at the 1966 Census. In addition, there is a new table in the social section which gives details of Commonwealth Government expenditure on education.

I wish to thank the officers of the various branches of the Northern Territory Administration and other departments who supplied information for inclusion in the Summary, and for their valuable assistance in collecting much of this information.

M. L. FERGUSON Chief Statistics Officer

Darwin, Northern Territory February 1971.

It is mainly for this reason that the number of people who do not state their religion is comparatively large.

EXPLANATORY NOTES: WORK FORCE, CENSUS, 30 JUNE 1966.

At the 1961 and previous Censuses the work force was determined as:

'Those who are engaged in an industry, business, profession, trade or service at the time of the Census (including those on long service leave, etc.) . . . '; and

'... those out of a job at time of the Census but who are usually engaged in an industry, business, profession, trade or service ...'

At the 1966 Census an additional set of four questions was asked in order to obtain information on the basis of which the work force could be determined more precisely. The questions were as follows.

'Did the person have a job or business of any kind last week (even though he may have been temporarily absent from it)? ANSWER "YES" or "NO".'

'Did the person do any work at all last week for payment or profit? Answer "YES" or "NO". Persons working without pay as a helper in a 'family business' or farm and members of the clergy and of religious orders (other than purely contemplative orders) should answer 'YES' to this question. Persons doing only unpaid housework should answer "NO".'

'Was the person temporarily laid off by his employer without pay for the whole of last week? ANSWER "YES" OR "NO".'

'Did the person look for work last week? ANSWER "YES" or "NO". (NOTE. "Looking for work" means (i) being registered with Commonwealth Employment Service, or (ii) approaching prospective employers, or (iii) placing or answering advertisements, or (iv) writing letters of application, or (v) awaiting the result of recent applications).'

The work force includes all persons for whom the answer 'yes' was given to any one of these four questions. Except that persons helping but not receiving wages or a salary who usually worked less than fifteen hours a week were excluded from the work force.

This approach conforms closely to the recommendations of the Eighth International Conference of Labour Statisticians held in Geneva in 1954 and the information so obtained has been used in determining the work force for the purposes of the 1966 Census.

The effect of the new definition is to include additional persons in the work force. This applies particularly to those working part-time (sometimes for only a few hours a week) some of whom, in 1961, may not have considered themselves as '... engaged in an industry, business, profession, trade or service.'

Note

At the 1966 Census the following definitions were used as a basis for the Census of Dwellings.

- (a) An 'occupied dwelling' is any habitation occupied by a Household group and may comprise the whole or only part of a building.
- (b) A 'household group' is a person or group of persons living as a domestic unit with common eating arrangements. The number of 'occupied dwellings' and the number of 'households' are therefore identical by definition.

The lack of a structural definition of a dwelling is not considered a significant disadvantage in Australia as the majority of households do in fact each occupy one distinct dwelling structure (i.e. a house or a self-contained flat).

TABLE 31.—DWELLINGS(a): POLICE DISTRICTS, NORTHERN TERRITORY CENSUSES, 1961 AND 1966

For urban centres, which are delimited by moving boundaries in accordance with a new uniform concept introduced at the 1966 Census, boundaries for 1961 have been redrawn according to the new criteria. The dwellings (partly estimated) within these boundaries are shown in this table for comparison with 1966 number of dwellings. For further information, see Census of the Commonwealth of Australia, 30 June 1966, Field Count Statement No. 12—Population: Police Districts, Northern Territory.

⁽a) The statistics shown are based on returns received from government authorities, contractors and owner-builders who undertake the erection of new buildings. Details obtained from government authorities and building contractors refer to all areas. Details for owner-builders cover only proclaimed health areas. Figures for houses exclude temporary dwellings, dwellings attached to other buildings, sheds, huts, etc. Each flat is counted as an individual living unit. Minor additions and alterations, renovations and repairs are excluded. Prior to 1 July 1966, additions of $10,000 and over to existing buildings are included with new buildings. From 1 July 1966, alterations and/or additions of $10,000 and over are included with new buildings. The values of new buildings exclude the value of land and represent the estimated value of buildings on completion. (b) The values shown represent the estimated value of work carried out on buildings during the year. For any building the sum of these values obtained during its construction equals the value of the building on completion. Details not available for years prior to 1957–58.

TABLE 88.—SALES TAX: GOODS SOLD AND TAX PAYABLE, NORTHERN TERRITORY, 1965-66 TO 1969-70

An indication of fluctuations in the value of wholesale trade is given by the returns made under the Sales Tax Acts. With certain specified exemptions, goods sold by wholesale in Australia, including imports, are taxable. The sales shown do not cover all wholesale trade, as vendors trading only in exempt goods are not required to furnish returns. Nor do the returns furnished necessarily cover a constant proportion of all wholesale trade. The effects of legislative and administrative changes on the recorded values of taxable and exempt goods respectively are somewhat uncertain, but total recorded sales are affected to a smaller degree. Insufficient information is available to enable adjustments to be made to the crude figures on this account. The information shown below relates to assessments made in Northern Territory only.

APPENDIX

ECONOMIC CENSUSES, 1968-69

In respect of the year 1968–69 the Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics conducted censuses of mining, manufacturing, retail trade, and wholesale trade on a fully integrated basis. For a detailed description of the purposes served by this project, and of the new concepts and methods adopted, the reader is referred to the special article on the censuses in Chapter 31 of Year Book, No. 56, 1970.

Full preliminary results and explanatory notes were published in the following preliminary statements from the Economic Censuses, 1968–69:

Mining Establishments (Reference No. 10.48); Manufacturing Establishments and Electricity and Gas Establishments (Reference No. 12.22); Retail Establishments and Selected Service Establishments (Reference No. 11.7); and Wholesale Establishments (Reference No. 11.51).

Note. In the following tables, direct comparisons with figures for previous years are not possible because of changes in the census units, the scope of the census and the items of data.
